

Proclamation

Whereas, the Grand Ledge community is based on the numerous relationships between its varied residents; and

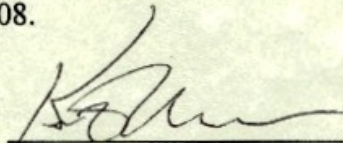

Whereas, even the most simple gesture or act of kindness can help to build the relationships communities are made of; and

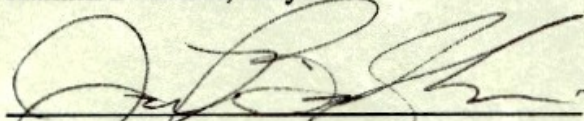

Whereas, neighbors have the unique opportunity to take action toward establishing the foundation for stronger, more caring, and more effective communities, creating a friendlier, more caring and compassionate world;

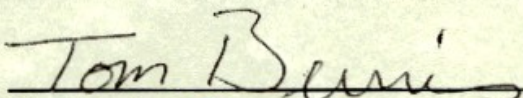

Be it known to one and all, that we, the City Council of the City of Grand Ledge, to honor our troops who care about our community by putting their lives on the line and to affirm a partnership among all of us in building a community that cares, do hereby declare the Sunday following Labor Day a Grand Ledge Caring Neighbor Day, and invite individuals and groups in the City to find creative ways of expressing what it means to be a caring neighbor.

Given this 11th day of August, in the year 2008.
